

Be A Better Presenter – in just 3 phone calls!

Christopher Slade has over 30 years' experience for the BBC, ITV, and Channel 4 and co-founded what became a UK Top 10 Media Group – Twofour. He has worked with many global brands at CEO and Board level all over the world, on messaging, presenting skills, better conferences and how to host seminars.

More at www.n1m.co.uk

Surveys list making a presentation as one of the most frightening things we can do. Let Christopher help you identify your messages, simplify your slides and build your presenting confidence. All this is done just on the phone or on Skype – so no need for meetings or travel. You can pick the times to suit you and each call will be 30 minutes to an hour. Clear, practical and reassuring support.

- Call 1 - the context of your presentation, any slides to look at, your concerns and the key messages.
- Call 2 – Christopher responds with a detailed review of your presentation, simplified slides, and specific things to take away. He will advise on a presenting style and give some great tips for looking confident and in control.
- Call 3 - a final conversation and analysis, and perhaps few goes on Skype at the presentation itself.

Discreet, confidential and really effective. Christopher has a reputation for clear, concise advice and realistic guidance. The cost is just £250, with calls at times to suit you. Results guaranteed.

Contact Christopher on 0776 194 5764 for a chat.